

CLIMATE DESTABILIZATION: OUR LONG EMERGENCY

Sunday, July 28, 2019, 6:30-8:00pm

Climate Truth is being spoken! Now What?

Our collective lifestyle neither recognizes limits to the Earth's resources nor the capacity of land, oceans, and atmosphere to absorb our wastes.

Many scientists warn that we are approaching tipping points beyond which the life support systems on Earth will be irreversibly damaged or destroyed.

Our governments are failing to address this ecological crisis with the intensity the problem demands. As a result, climate groups are springing up around the world, taking to the streets to demand action from our leaders.

This 39 min video produced by Scientists Warning (<http://www.scientistswarning.org>) summarizes the state of the climate crisis and recommends actions to take.

Join us for the video, followed by discussion and personal resilience practices.
